STUBBORN CHINESE DEFENCE AT SOOCHOW

INTERNATIONAL MEDICAL RELIEF SOCIETY

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek Becomes Patron Of Local Society

To the distinguished list of patrons of the Hong Kong International Medical Relief Society has been added the name of the wife of the Generalissimo, Madame Chiang Kai-shek who has consented to become a patron. The names of the Patrons now are, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, His Honour Sir Atholl MacGregor, Kt., the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kote-wall, LL.D., the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow, Mr. Eu Tong-Sen.

The organisation and services of the above Committee are advancing rapidly. Several appointments made by the Chinese Authorities in Nanking have added to the efficient functioning of the local Committee.

General Chan Kee-yau, representative of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has consented to be High Advisor to the Committee, and Dr. C. Y. Wu has been asked to be local Medical Advisor. Dr. C. Y. Wu is the Hong Kong representative of the Minister of Health in Nanking, and special delegate in Hong Kong of the Chinese National Red Cross Society.

In response to an appeal from H. E. Dr. J. Heng Liu, Minister of Health Nanking, the International Medical Relief Committee of Hong Kong has been the first community to promise support of one Red Cross Unit for the duration of the Sino-Japanese hostilities. The cost of this Unit to the local Committee will be $900 per month. This is placing an extra burden upon the Committee's resources, but it is a form of service which the Committee feel is one of the most effective possible to accomplish the objects for which the local Committee was formed.

FREE DISTRIBUTION

The Committee trust that the generosity of the public in Hong Kong will back this new venture.

BURDEN TOO HEAVY ON INDUSTRIALISTS

Paris, Nov. 17. The British refusal to participate in the Paris Exhibition in 1938, as explained to the paper "Le Jour" by members of the British Delegation is due to the fact that the British Empire Exhibition 1938 opens in Glasgow, and to participate in two great exhibitions would be too great a burden for British industrialists.

The paper in this connection raises the question of the fate of the British Pavilion. According to the statutes, Britain is entitled to dismantle the pavilion, but the paper suggests that the Board of Directors of the Exhibition take over the structure, which could be used for some other purpose.—Transocean.

CHINESE CONSOLIDATE POSITIONS

Nanking, Nov. 17. The Chinese have consolidated their positions along the Shanghai-Nanking Railway Front following the arrival of fresh troops, according to Chinese reports. The Chinese are now said to be holding a line about ninety miles in length, extending from Hupukow on the Yangtze to Chapoo on Hangchow Bay via Changshu, Chengyi, Tsinpu, Kashing and Pinghu.

Chinese sources attribute the collapse of the Quinsan-Taitang line to the failure of Liu Tschuan's former Manchurian troops to carry out orders regarding the defence of Huangtu.—Reuter.

150,000 SZECHUEN TROOPS TO REINFORCE NANKING

INTENSIVE BOMBARDMENT IS EXPECTED

THRONGS MOVING FROM CAPITAL

Tokyo, November 17: Despite swift initial successes on the march on Nanking the Japanese do not seem yet to have overcome the stubborn Chinese resistance at the strongly fortified defence line of Soochow.

Only news regarding military operations issued at Tokyo, at noon to-day was that Japanese troops had reached the lake district, south-east of Soochow, thereby being not far from the city. This lake district, however, forms the key position of the Chinese defence line. According to Japanese reports forty per cent. of the leading members of the Central Government, including Dr. H. H. Kung, Finance Minister, have already left Nanking. Among those who have remained at Nanking is Mr. Wang Ching-wei, outstanding Chinese statesman, besides Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who apparently will himself direct the defence operations at Nanking. Eighty per cent. of the officials of the Ministries are said to have been provided with money for travelling. Since all private people who are in a position to do so are likewise anxious to leave Nanking. All steamers and junks are crowded with refugees. All automobiles have been requisitioned for military purposes. In order to prevent the advance of Japanese warships and transports on the Yangtze, the Nanking Government has already established barrages at two points of the river. Four more barrages will be established.—Transocean.

Shanghai, November 17: All Chinese forces which fought on the Shanghai front have withdrawn to the rear for reorganisation—leaving fresh troops to man the ninety-mile line from Hupukow to Chapoo. The latest reinforcements for Nanking include 150,000 troops from Szechuen province.—Reuter.

Nanking, November 17: With roads thronged by people moving out of the city, Nanking is stirring like a gigantic ant heap. The Chinese expect intensive bombing and contend that the Government moved out in good time. Foreign Consular authorities are handling the disposition of their nationals but their plans have hitherto not been announced.—Reuter.

Shanghai, November 17: A Japanese Army spokesman in statement to-day estimated the Chinese casualties in the Shanghai area, excluding the Yangtze and Hangchow Bay regions, between August 23 and November 16 to be 300,000 of whom 91,000 were left in the battlefields including 10,000 during the last ten days. The spokesman stated that war booty taken in the Shanghai area included 14,200 rifles, 480 heavy machine-guns, 1,900 light machine-guns, 10 field guns, 70 trench mortars, and seven howitzers.

The Japanese claim that all of Shantung province, north of the Yellow River, is now in their hands.—Reuter.

Tokyo, November 17: The Imperial Throne has sanctioned the draft of the Military Ordinance for establishing the Imperial Headquarters as the highest body of supreme command. The Chiefs of the Army and Navy General staff will be entrusted with the task of elaborating plans of operations for co-ordinating Army and Navy strategy with a view to achieving the ultimate end of the campaign. The Ordinance will be promulgated to-morrow.—Reuter.

Hankow, November 17: While the Japanese are still in occupation of Taming in southern Hopen west of the Peiping-Hankow Railway, a Chinese semi-official report to-day claimed the capture of Shaho on the same railway north-east of Taming and the cutting of the Japanese line of communication.

Japanese troops along the Chang River and Taming are alarmed by the occupation of Shaho by Chinese mobile units.

Another Chinese semi-official report stated that Chinese detachments from the Yellow River are moving up in a counter-offensive on Taming.—International News Agency.

LOCAL RESIDENTS ENJOY A RARE THRILL

Flights In Pan American Air Liner

GOVERNOR AMONG PASSENGERS

Myriads of little islets of all shapes and sizes, their shores kissed by the gentle lapping of the calm sea, rising sheer out of the water in undulating grandeur all around us, while to the north rose the hills of the Kowloon mainland. Scores of Chinese junks looking like tiny model yachts gently skimming the water below in the midst of which a great ocean liner, which to us appeared like a small coaster, slowly glided along in the direction of the harbour.

That was the first sight that greeted the eyes as I looked out of the window of the Hong Kong clipper yesterday afternoon when the Pan American Airways Corporation gave three flights over Hong Kong to local residents, writes a "Daily Press" representative.

To the majority of those who were privileged to go up into this beautiful modern ship of the air it was not a novel experience in so far as the air trip was concerned. Most of us had been up in the air before; but few of us had sat in the luxurious comfort of a huge modern transoceanic air liner. For that reason we looked forward to the trip with keen anticipation.

We wanted to know what it felt like to be sitting on one of those ships which cross the seas with the sky as its highway. And we found out. Oh Boy! its great! Skimming along at 120 miles an hour one hardly feels one is moving. As the engines purr away the huge ship glides through the air without a jerk or a jolt and you lounge back on your cosy seat and chat. That is what modern air travel has come to.

Three flights were given. The first was for the Governor, Lady Northcote and other notables, the second for local transportation company executives, C. N. A. C.

HOUSING PROBLEM CROPS UP ANEW

Experiment To Be Carried Out In Kowloon

With the influx of people into Hong Kong, consequent upon the situation in North China, the housing problem—which had for many years been a very pressing one—is giving the authorities here much food for thought and one wonders, if anything is ever going to be done apart from merely "considering the situation."

A "Daily Press" representative made a tour of the "native" quarters in the Central part of the city yesterday and the conditions he found were, to say the least, appalling. It may not be generally known, but one has only to walk half-a-mile or so from the very heart of the city, to see what the real Hong Kong is like. Queen's Road, Des Voeux Road and certain other places in town are just the "window dressing"—to hide all the hideousness that the slum district has to show.

Our representative took a short walk up Wellington Street and turned into one of the "side-lanes." The sight that greeted him was incredible and it is one of those things that has to be seen to be believed. The houses—or they may best be described as apologies for houses—were tottering on their last legs as it were and in one of them there wasn't even a front door! One had to climb up a ladder to get inside and as for the inside itself—the least said the better.

FORTY IN A FLAT
Inquiries by our representative revealed that each floor housed about 40 people and the only means of ventilation were two windows—one at the back of the floor and the other represented the front window. The kitchen served for all the 40 people and had to play the role of bathroom etc., as well, and there are people who wonder why tuberculosis is so prevalent amongst the poorer classes here!

VARIETY REVUE

A SUCCESS

Hong Kong Supports Great Cause

Despite the many calls made on it recently, the Hong Kong public again demonstrated its generosity last night when it turned out in full force to support the Variety Revue, produced by Ann Ellis and sponsored by the Hong Kong Y Men's Club, held at the Queen's Theatre. The cohort was in aid of the War Relief Fund and the organisers must have reason to feel satisfied; their effort has resulted in a considerable amount being contributed to a very deserving cause.

"Britain Is The Guardian Of Peace"

London, Nov. 17. The fact that British and Belgian community ideals, interests and traditional friendship have survived the demise of the Locarno Pact were strikingly affirmed by the warmth of the welcome accorded to King Leopold everywhere he appears. British and Belgian flags fly side by side in all the important buildings.

Newspapers give prominence to last night's State banquet especially to King Leopold's happily chosen phrase, "Britain is the guardian of peace."

King George toasting the Royal visitor expressed confidence in the future which holds a most valuable guarantee for peace in the common determination of the two countries to promote the cause of good faith and fair dealing in international affairs.

RECEIVES ADDRESS
London, Nov. 17. King Leopold of the Belgians to-day received an address at the Guildhall from the City of London after which he was entertained to luncheon by the Lord Mayor, Sir Charles Twyford, at the Guildhall.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

STATE DRIVE
London, Nov. 17. King Leopold drove in State through the City accompanied by the Duke of Kent and attended by the Sovereign's escort of Life Guards to the ancient Guildhall which was crowded by members of the Corporation and Civic State dignitaries including the Premier and Mrs. Neville Chamberlain. The City's address, the presentation of which was attended by old time ceremonial declared it was the earnest hope of London's citizens that as the peoples of Belgium and Britain stood side by side in times of stress and suffering so they would ever strive for a peaceful solution to the problems now facing the nations of the world.
King Leopold replied in English.—Reuter.

Refugees admitted in an orderly manner into one of the refugee camps after registration.

CRUEL AUNT FINED $250

For Ill-Treating Her Niece

Scenes of indescribable cruelty, depicting the ill-treatment of a little girl by her merciless aunt who deliberately applied a red-hot opium-pick to the poor child's arms and legs because she failed to carry out her duty to massage her from midnight till dawn by falling asleep, were recalled at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Before Mr. R.A.D. Forrest, Kwan Yun To, alias Kau Koo, aged 26, married woman, of No. 133 Wing Lok Street, second floor, was charged with keeping and ill-treating a 12-year-old girl, Kwan Tsui, her niece, as if she were a mutual.

Mr. H. W. Fraser, Inspector of Mutuals, prosecuted.

Outlining the case, Mr. Fraser said that on November 8, 1937 complainant went to No. 7 Police Station and reported that defendant had ill-treated her. Defendant had possession of complainant ever since complainant's mother died.

CIGARETTE ENDS USED

Continuing, Mr. Fraser said that complainant alleged that defendant burned her with cigarette ends and opium picks, made her massage her at night, and wash clothes, sweep floors and do other domestic work in the day time, ill-treating generally.

Giving evidence, Dr. Cheung Shiu Fan, medical practitioner, of the Queen Mary Hospital, said that on November 8, 1937 he examined a little girl by the name of Kwan Chiu (complainant), and found that in her right and left forearms were six and two burned marks respectively.

Complainant gave corroborative evidence and proved that her aunt burned her deliberately with a red-hot opium-pick because she applied the opium-pick to arm once and repeated the action again after the opium-pick had been heated by a flame for some time.

His Worship fined defendant $250—$100 for the first offence and $150 for the second. The girl is in the custody of the S.C.A.

SIR HENRY POLLOCK

CRITICISES GOVERNMENT CONTRACT

Supplementary votes amounting to $683,339 were approved by the Finance Committee at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Council Chamber. The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, presided, and the following members were present: Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Hon. Mr. Leo d'Almada e Castro Jr., Hon. Mr. J. Paterson, Hon. Mr. M. T. Johnson, Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan, Mr. E. Davidson and Mr. Sidney Caine (Financial Secretary).

Objection was raised by Sir Henry Pollock to the vote of $82,000 under the head "Prisons Department—Subsistence of prisoners." He considered the figures rather exorbitant and thought as he had occasion to express before, that the contract entered into by the Government was unfavourable from the taxpayer's point of view. He recommended that the item should not be approved until a thorough inquiry had been made.

Mr. M. K. Lo said that however bad the contract was, it had already been entered into, and he could not see how they could refuse to sanction payment. That would amount to a breach of contract by the Government.

DRASTIC ALTERATION

The item was passed by a vote 5 to 4, but a drastic alteration of the method of supplying rations for prisoners was recommended.

Other items approved were as published in these columns yesterday, and included the sum of $37,000 for a new submarine cable across the harbour to replace the one damaged by the wear and tear of ordinary use and effects of typhoons. This cable is for the government telephone line.

In this connection, Mr. J. J. Paterson asked if it would not be more economical for the Government to make use of the ordinary service. Mr. Henderson (Director of Public Works) replied that the matter had been investigated many years ago, and it had been decided to retain the separate line.

Amongst other items considered were provisions for repairs to Government buildings which suffered damage as a result of the typhoon of September 2. The details are:—Government buildings in the New Territories, $130,000; in the New Kowloon district, $28,000; District Office South, $200; Hong Kong, $225,000; and Kowloon district, $33,000.

POLICE REPORTS

Mrs. Duke of No. 5 Garden Terrace reported to the police the loss of a pair of spectacles near Pedder Street on Tuesday, valued at £2-15-0.

Mr. Ernest Hedley fourth engineer on board the s.s. Turbo, now lying at the Takoo Docks reported to the police the loss of a cigarette case, pencils, engineering certificate and a passport, from his cabin.

Dr. Smalley, No. 57 Kadoorie Avenue, reported to the police that someone entered his room by an open window and stole a handbag containing money, sundries, a driving license in the name of Miss J. Smalley, and articles valued to $30. Another handbag with $38 cash in it was also taken.

Ah Lui, 24, with head injuries, was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital, the man having jumped off a moving bus in Nathan Road.

Leung Lam, 47, of No. 22 Cross Street, was taken to the Kowloon Hospital with injuries to his back caused by a piece of wood falling on him.

The names of 15 firms alleged to be dealing in Japanese goods were mentioned in an anti-Japanese poster found on a pillar at the Wong Wing-pak store at No. 21 Bonham Street West on Tuesday.

One of the folk of the store saw the poster at 8 a.m., and the police were immediately informed. The public did not have a chance to see the poster.

Sentences of three months' imprisonment were imposed on the three respectively. First defendant had two previous convictions against him while second had been sent to prison once previously.

STAPLES SURPRISES!

A MENU FOR LUNCHEON

Entrée
Escalopes de Veau à l'Anglaise.
Corbeille de Fruits.
The eggs are poached and set in little "croustades" of fried bread, the bottoms of which have been garnished with mushroom puree. The eggs are then covered with cheese sauce, browned quickly and decorated if you like with slices of truffle.
The thin slices of veal are egg-and-breadcrumbed, fried in butter and arranged alternately with slices of grilled ham or bacon. Potatoes and green peas, English fashion, should be good with this dish.

Tongue And Spinach Salad

Cold cooked tongue
Spinach
Mayonnaise
Lemon juice
Seasoning
A little melted butter
Lettuce.
Cook some spinach, drain it well and chop finely. Season it and add a little lemon juice and a little melted butter. Press it tightly into some buttered dariole moulds, and chill. Then turn on to thin slices of cold tongue cut into rounds, garnish with lettuce leaves and serve mayonnaise separately.

PRESSED CHICKEN

Pressed chicken is easily prepared and very good. Cut the chicken into joints and cook until tender in as little as possible of strong stock, or water with a chopped veal bone added, plenty of seasoning, a carrot, and an onion. When tender remove skin and bone. Strain the stock and add to it an equal quantity of aspic jelly. Put the meat into a mould, pouring on a little of the stock after each addition, and a little on the top. When cold and beginning to set put a plate and a weight on top and leave to set. Turn out when wanted.

Sauces For Poultry And Game

Here are some sauces for use with poultry game. They should all be found in any good cookery book.

Grilled—Madeira, Mushroom, Piquante Sauces.

Roasted—Bread Sauce.
Plovers, roasted—Brown Sauce.

Partridge, roasted—Brown Sauce.

Wild Duck, roasted—Bigarade Sauce.

How To Boil Vegetables

Vegetables cooked in the English way—that is, in boiling water—are very often overcooked, hence their waterlogged appearance. To get the best results with greens, cook them in water sufficient just to cover them, and keep the water boiling briskly. Root vegetables should be cooked more slowly, or they will break up. The moment the vegetables are cooked, drain them well, and put them back either in the saucepan or in a warmed casserole with a little butter and replace over a low heat for a minute or two, shaking the saucepan now and again to prevent burning.

Never add soda to green vegetables. It may preserve their colour, but it destroys valuable vitamins. Keep the lid off when cooking green vegetables, and on when cooking roots and tubers.

The French method of cooking vegetables not only gives delicious results, but has the great advantage of conserving their value. All vegetables, except very young ones, should first be blanched—that is, put into cold water and brought to the boil. They should then be drained, cut up if necessary, and put into a casserole with a very little stock or water, butter, and seasoning. The lid should be put on and the vegetables cooked very slowly for two hours or more either in the oven—if you happen to have it on—or over low heat.

Vegetables which have been preserved in salt—such as French beans—should be well washed and soaked in cold water, and then put into a saucepan of cold water and brought to the boil. This water should be thrown away, and the process repeated once or twice in order to get rid of the salty taste. They can then be cooked in the usual way.

Wood Pigeon—See Pigeon above. Game at in this list should be served with no sauce, but be accompanied by gravy alone.

CAKE & SWEETS FOR THE PARTY

GENOISE TARTLES

For pastry—
10 ozs. plain flour
5 ozs. lard
Pinch of salt

Also—
Cold water
Raspberry jam
Genoise mixture
Chocolate icing
Whipped cream

Line some boat-shaped tins with short pastry, put a spot of jam in each and three-quarters fill with the raw Genoise mixture. Bake in a hot oven for about 7 minutes, then reduce the heat and finish cooking about 12 minutes longer. When cold decorate with chocolate icing and lastly, pipe whipped cream on the top.

Genoise Mixture—
2 ozs. butter
2 ozs. castor sugar
2 ozs. plain flour.

1 egg
4 teaspoonful baking powder

Beat the butter and sugar together till the mixture is thick and creamy. Then add the beaten egg and the flour and baking powder alternately.

Choco late icing.—Put a little warm water in a basin, stand it over hot water and add sieved icing sugar till the mixture is thick enough to spread, beating all the time. Then add sufficient grated chocolate to give it a good colour and flavour. Beat till the chocolate is dissolved and then spread smoothly over the Genoise mixture. (Do not let the icing get more than lukewarm or it will lose its shine).

ICED CHOCOLATE CAKES

4 ozs. plain flour
1 teaspoonful baking powder

1 egg
4 ozs. castor sugar
Pinch of salt

1 oz. melted butter
1 oz. grated chocolate (melted)

1 gill milk (about)

Separate the white from the yolk of egg. Beat the yolk well

CAKES FOR THE FAMILY

Whatever likes and dislikes the family may have on the subject of food, there's never any disagreement about cake. Although, of course, some may prefer one flavour to another.

All, I am sure, will like rice cake. It is light and appetising and not too rich for the children.

Mix together 3oz. flour, a pinch of salt, and a small teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat 3oz. margarine and 3oz. sugar well together for several minutes, then add one beaten egg, and the dry ingredients gradually.

Add sufficient milk to make the mixture of a consistency that will drop from the spoon, then pour into a greased tin. Bake in a moderate oven, Regulo 4, for one and quarter hours.

CORNFLOUR FLAVOUR

This nourishing cake will tempt an invalid to eat.

Ingredients: 6oz. self-raising flour, 3oz. cornflour, 4oz. margarine, 6oz. sugar, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls of great lemon rind, a little milk.

Beat the margarine and sugar well, add the yolks of the eggs, then the sieved flour, cornflour and a pinch of salt. Add the lemon rind, mix and beat well, then fold in the beaten egg whites and a little milk.

and then add the sugar slowly beating all the time. Next add the melted butter and chocolate.

Lastly add the sieved flour, baking powder and salt alternately with the milk. Beat up the white stuff and fold it into the mixture.

Partly fill some paper cases and bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes. (This quantity makes about fifteen little cakes).

Decorate with white icing made as follows:—

1 unbeaten egg white.

3 ozs. granulated sugar.

1 tablespoonful cold water

Vanilla essence.

Put all the ingredients into the top of a double saucepan over boiling water. Beat with a whisk for seven minutes. Add the vanilla essence, beat for a minute and then spread over the top of the cakes. Decorate with glacé cherries, walnuts, violets, rose petals, etc.

SENSATIONALISM

London, Nov. 16.

The announcement that the Lord President of the Council, Lord Halifax, will leave for Berlin on Tuesday afternoon was received with satisfaction by the press this morning. The importance of the British Minister's forthcoming conversations is once more stressed. The majority of the papers severely criticise the sensationalist papers, which published tendentious forecasts on the outcome of the conversations, which "were obviously aimed at torpedoing the parleys," but "luckily failed to attain their object."

The "Daily Telegraph," which often reflects the opinion of the Foreign Office, is particularly vigorous in its language, condemning these sensationalist papers, terming them "irresponsible rumour-mongers," speaking of the "malicious intent of the unauthenticated reports which were published by some papers on Saturday" and declares that reports of this kind are not likely to bring about an atmosphere of understanding between the two nations.

The "Evening Standard" states that in commenting on the parleys in Berlin, extreme reserve must be demanded of the press, since the situation must be handled with utmost delicacy.

EXPULSION OF NEWS CORRESPONDENT

French Ambassador Protests To Von Neurath

Berlin, Nov. 16.

Following the expulsion order against M. Ravoux, the prominent French journalist, who is chief German correspondent of the Havas News Agency, the authorities this morning disconnected all telephones at the Havas office, but restored them 90 minutes later.

Meanwhile the French Ambassador had protested to Baron von Neurath against the expulsion and requested an extension of the three-day time limit, which was extended to seven days.

LORD HALIFAX LEAVES

London, Nov. 16.

Lord Halifax left London this afternoon for a visit to Berlin to attend the International hunting exhibition, in the course of which he is to meet Herr Hitler.

This morning he saw Mr. Eden at the Foreign Office. Mr. Eden, who yesterday was confined to bed with a chill, also saw the Prime Minister this morning, but later returned to bed as he was still feeling the effects of the chill. In these circumstances, he was unable to be at Victoria Station to meet King Leopold of the Belgians or to be present at the State Banquet to-night.

ese Communists. For a time it was thought she was hostile to her brother-in-law, the Generalissimo, but I venture to think that we can see the delicate hand of this beautiful Soong sister in the presence of the Communists in the firing line at this time.

The story of the third sister is not exciting. Her husband is the Minister of Finance and she contents herself with dominating him. Behind the scenes she is called "Madame Minister," which may or may not be fair to Mr. Kung. Certainly, she was once a very considerable power on the Shanghai Stock Exchange, and a woman who could be that ought to find national finance simple. Madame Kung is not popular as her sisters are, but power is sweet compensation for the untutored plaudits of the mob.

There were three sisters and three brothers, but the genius is in the female branch. While the sons can claim a place in the "Soong Dynasty" the footsteps on the sands of time will have been made by the dainty feet of the three sisters.

It is said that his wife made him greater than he was and that it was her mind which stimulated his. But then Cosima never wants for champions. On his death, Madame Sun Yat Sen retired from the public scene, but is supposed to keep in touch with the "Chin-

WHEN GENERALISSIMO IS HARASSED

Madame Chiang Sooths With Bach On Piano

INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS

If Shakespeare were alive to-day what a stupendous historical drama he could write. Nor would he have to overstrain that limitless imagination in remoulding the characters from real life to meet the exigencies of theatrical requirement, writes Atticus in the "Sunday Times."

Every type of actor is ready and rehearsed. There are the "Heavies," with darkened brow and clanking step. They have even outdistanced Kipling, so that now his famous line would have to read: "The corporals and the kings depart." There is the little slant-eyed ruffian of the East, with courtly manners and the open knife. There is the handsome juvenile lead who rides out each day in the sun like Sir Galahad seeking to free the maiden "Peace." There are plotters who gamble in the currencies of foreign nations and count economic collapse not too big a price for the enriching of their private pockets. There are the crowds who have no quarrel with each other waiting to hear that they are at war.

Nor would such a drama be complete without the feminine element. The rough music of men's voices needs the softer notes of women. Therefore we must turn to China for the Three Wise Women of the East—the Soong Sisters, who are exerting such a profound influence upon Oriental affairs at this moment.

MADAME CHIANG KAI-SHEK

The wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek feels like a Chinese and thinks like an American. When I was in the United States this summer I heard a great deal about her from friends and admirers. In fact, I was privileged to read a long private letter from her which not only showed an extraordinarily political instinct out of a rare command of English. The Oxford Group is inclined to claim her as an adherent, although she has little in common with the fatalism of that much-discussed movement. While hoping the gods will provide, she prefers to trust to her own and her husband's efforts.

She is the youngest of the Soong Sisters, and was educated in America. By temperament and by contact she came naturally under the influence of her brother-in-law, Dr. Sun Yat Sen. Above everything else, she is an idealist and a realist. The devotion of Mrs. Chamberlain to the Prime Minister is not greater than the devotion of Madame Chiang Kai-shek to her Generalissimo. Her husband does not read English, but Madame Chiang Kai-shek constitutes herself a Literary Digest and keeps him informed on contemporary occidental thought.

When he is harassed she soothes him with Bach on the piano. Personally, I have always found Bach on the piano irritating, but the endurance of the Chinese is unquestionably part of their strength. But Madame Chiang Kai-shek does not end her activities with devotion to her husband. She takes an active and decisive part in the affairs of the nation. To the Chinese armies she is a familiar figure as she descends from her aeroplane on an unexpected visit. She knows no fear except for Japan. A truly remarkable and attractive woman who some day may have as significant a status to her memory as that of the Maid of Orleans.

HER HUSBAND

The Generalissimo was not always the austere figure that he is to-day. He rises at 5.30 each morning, whereas it is said that he used to go to bed at that hour. As a financier in his earlier days he made a comfortable fortune. He lived the life of a man about town until he married his second wife the youngest Soong daughter, and became a complete Puritan. One of his most ardent reforms is the New Life Movement which he launched some time ago, and in which he strives to inculcate the principles of purity of thought, motive and action.

Those who know him well say that he is nervous in temperament but of nerve in a crisis. Politically he was once sympathetic to Communism but turned against it and is now its bitter enemy. His health is indifferent, and he lives in constant fear of assassination. But, if China emerges from her long sleep and maintains her independence, history will have to give full credit to the Puritan Generalissimo of Nanking.

THE SISTERS

The two sisters of Madame Chiang Kai-shek are not so spectacular nor so gifted as she. The eldest is the widow of the late Sun Yat Sen. Where there are three sisters there is always one who is the beauty, and that honour belongs to Madame Sun Yat Sen. We find a certain similarity to Western life in the fact that she was Sun Yat Sen's secretary as well as his second wife. Not for the first time, though, in the affairs of men and women the substitution of a Cosima for a Minna strengthened the genius of the man. After his marriage a new clarity and a new spiritual power seemed to animate Sun Yat Sen, which resulted in the shaping of the revolution.

It is said that his wife made him greater than he was and that it was her mind which stimulated his. But then Cosima never wants for champions. On his death, Madame Sun Yat Sen retired from the public scene, but is supposed to keep in touch with the "Chin-

A PORTER AEROPLANE

Machine Mounted On Its Back

The two aeroplanes which are intended to take off and climb as one with the object of launching the upper machine in mid-air have been put together and are riding at a buoy in the Medway at Rochester, says the "Times." The float seaplane, which is to be helped, heavily loaded, into the air by this device was hoisted on to the back of its porter in a brisk wind and at the moment when a passing tug made a lively wash, yet there was no difficulty in the mounting operation. This towering composite aeroplane has since proved quite stable even in blustery conditions. Its behaviour in moving over the water to warm up engines and to take up position for a take-off has yet to be tested, but there seems no undue anxiety among designers or constructors on this score.

Now that the first Mayo Composite Aircraft has come together there should be little delay in testing it in flight and proving the theory of automatic separation which is the essential feature of the device. A few days' work will be devoted to making and testing the electrical and telephone connections which will secure communication between the pilots in the two machines and will ensure by a system of signals that neither pilot can be taken by surprise at the moment of separation. When these have been proved satisfactory this aeroplane, composed of a flying-boat below and a float seaplane above, will take off the water and climb to 5,000ft or 6,000ft. At that height the joint contraption will settle down to level flight until the speed prescribed for separation is reached. The two pilots will then agree by telephone to release their respective safety catches and the subsequent release of the third connecting link should allow the heavily-loaded upper machine to lift clear of the lower.

This machine, assisted into the air in this way, may be loaded to a total weight of about 20,000lb., but is not intended to weigh more than 13,500lb. when it alights on the water. Its function thus is to carry enough fuel for a very long journey or alternatively a load of bombs of which it may

DENSE FOG IN CHANNEL

London, Nov. 16.

Dense fog was experienced in the Channel off the Kent coast early this morning and shipping was hampered. Later the fog spread inland and was extensive but patchy. In the London area particularly in the Thames Valley visibility was low and road and rail traffic was slowed down.

The fog services were in operation on several suburban lines. Three people were detained in hospital owing to injuries received in a collision near Crewe.

COMEDY ROMANCE

The unusual procedure of launching a newcomer to American films with a starring role is followed in "The King and the Chorus Girl," the spirited comedy romance produced by Mervyn Le-Roy for Warner Bros., which opens to-day at the Majestic Theatre.

The player in this case is Fernand Gravet, famous Continental screen star, who makes his American bow in this picture. LeRoy met him last year in Paris, promptly signed him to a long term contract and brought him to Hollywood.

Norman Krasna and Groucho
Marx fashioned a swift-paced, laugh crammed story for the new star.

Joan Blondell is in the feminine lead.

Two experts in comedy—Edward Everett Horton and Mary Nash—are the ever-worried relatives of "King Alfred VII."

BULLDOG DRUMMOND COMES BACK

John Barrymore's classic nose takes on impressive if not colossal proportions for his role of Colonel Nelson, the suave get-your-man
police inspector from Scotland Yard, in the fast-paced new rhyme-riddled comedy-mystery film, "Bulldog Drummond Comes Back," which has its run at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

"Bulldog Drummond Comes Back" is Paramount's second dramatization of one of the McNelle stories featuring the famous swashbuckling detective.

John Howard plays the role of Captain Drummond. His extraordinary sleuthing powers, in this particular case, are stimulated by the fear of losing his fiancée, lovely Louise Campbell, kidnapped
at the outset by a dangerous lady,
out to revenge herself upon Captain Drummond for his success in bringing her crook lover to the gallows. To prove that her villainy is not without imagination,
the lady sets clues for the chase
in the form of rhymed riddles.

The chase leads Howard, accompanied always by Reginald Denny
as the comic "Algy" and E. E.
Clive, Howard's also-clowning butler, through an intricate maze of suspense-laden situations. They wind up in a haunted house with the girl and her would-be rescuers all trapped and about to die of poisoned gas. Barrymore, disguised, arrives to save the day.

In the supporting cast of this new film are J. Carrol Nash, Helen Freeman and Rita Page.

TO-NIGHT'S LECTURE

Mr. Donald K. Paul will give a lecture entitled "Towards a Golden Age" to-night at 8 p.m. at the Lodge Room of the local Theoso-
phical Society, No. 1B, Chater Road.

He will indicate the logic and certainty of the imminence of an age of true civilization quite different, perhaps, from conditions which communists, scientists and other political and religious bodies predict.

LONDON PLAYS FOR NEW YORK

NEARLY 20 TO BE PRODUCED
English Actors To Take Part

New plays by Messrs. A. A. Milne,
Benn Levy, Frederick Lonsdale, and Norman Ginsbury; revivals of plays
by Pinero and Shaw; half-a-dozen productions with Victorian settings; three Shakespearean revivals—everything is ready for a notable theatrical season.

The season in spite of appearances, is in New York, not London. Broadway this autumn is borrowing freely from Shaftesburyavenue.

Nearly 20 plays that have either completed their London runs, or are still running, will go to the New York stage. It will be interesting to see how the American theatregoer reacts to such typically English pieces as the historical revue, "1066 And All That," the Criterion light comedy, "French Without Tears," and Mr. Gerald Savory's "George and Margaret,"
with its now famous third act,

"GEORGE AND MARGARET"

The last-named two comedies will open in New York soon with English casts. Mr. Frank Lawton and Mr. Cyril Raymond are in the "French Without Tears" company, and Miss Irene Browne and Mr.
Morland Graham in "George and Margaret."

The demand for Victorian settings, stimulated by the success of "Victoria Regina," continues unabated. Thus Broadway is to see the Farjeon musical piece, "The Two Bouquets," Mr. Keith Winter's
"Old Music," now running at the St. James's, Miss Helen Jerome's
adaptation of "Jane Eyre," Miss Elswyth Thane's "Young Mr.
Disraeli," which had a moderate run in London nearly three years ago—and a fresh version of Tollope's "Bartholomew's Towers." There will also be a revival of Pinero's play of 1899, "The Gay Lord Quex."

"Love of Women," by Mrs. Albee
Stuart and the late Mr. Philip Stuart, is another potential production. Early in 1935 it was stated that the Lord Chamberlain had forbidden its public presentation in England; the Repertory Players staged it in the summer of that year.

One of the new plays for Broadway is "Gentleman Unknown," a comedy by Mr. A. A.
Milne, whose delightful "Sarah Simple" has been running in the West End since May.

The Shakespearean revivals include "Antony and Cleopatra,"
(with Mr. Brian Aherne and Miss Tallulah Bankhead), and "Richard
the Second" (with Mr. Maurice Evans repeating his fine performance of the King).

A cheerful prospect, London
salutes London-in-New York.

THE LAWYER MAN

The romance of an obscure East Side lawyer who sprang to fame because of his magnetic power to sway juries and then fell because he thought he knew as much about women as about law, is unfolded
in a Warner Bros. picture "Lawyer Man," starring William Powell, which is on to-day at the King's Theatre, with Joan Blondell playing opposite Powell.

The story is said to be filled with the quaint humour of a successful East Side lawyer who just can't resist the smiles of pretty ladies. How he is brought to his senses eventually through the love of his wise-cracking secretary touches on both humour and romance.

mystery, "Bulldog Drummond

the Queen's Theatre.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS DEFENDED

"Barbarians" Made
Good Citizens

—Sir F. Fletcher

The complaint that the English Public Schools do not teach citizenship and that boys educated in them fail to play their full part afterwards in public service as town councillors or voluntary social workers was answered in the Education Section of the British Association by Sir Frank Fletcher,
a former headmaster of Charterhouse.

"I am by no means prepared to admit the complaint," he said.
"If the complaint be true, what has happened to the boys whom we have been sending out year by year, full of keenness for serving their community and practised in the small but very real administrative duties of every school?"

THE SPOILT CHILD

"I am sure that the material is there if the State can only make use of it. It may be well, that the blame, if there be blame,
should be laid on the world outside that fails to use them, and not on the teachers and schools."

"It is the function of the secondary school to turn the light-hearted, fascinating, half-civilised individuals committed to us, into members of a civilised community.
They come to us barbarians, they leave us, we hope, citizens and good neighbours, at any rate in the making."

"For the boy who comes to school from a large family, or wise parents, or the judicious training of the good preparatory school, there is little hardship.
But the spoilt child or only son of over-fond parents has more to go through before he realises the proportion of things. Yet he, too, learns it and it is a wiser, and not necessarily a sadder, boy who returns to the home circle after the first three months."

HOME FLEET TRAINING
H.M.S. Ramillies, Captain R. W. Oldham, O.B.E., A.D.C., has left for Lamlash, where she will be until November 29, returning to Sheerness on December 2 for Christmas leave. H.M.S. Revenge, Captain R. B. T. Miles, is to leave Portland for Milford Haven, and will return to Devonport on December 2. Both vessels are employed in the sea training of boys.

The Ramillies is the ship in which lower deck candidates for commissioned rank are to receive special training under the revised scheme recently announced, and Instructor-Commander F. C. Sobey, B.A., has been appointed to her for duty with these candidates. During the past two years he has been an instructor in navigation at the R.N. College, Greenwich. Previously he had served in several ships of the Fleet, including the Nelson, Home Fleet flagship.

NAVAL APPOINTMENTS

The following appointments are made by the Admiralty:—
Payr. Cdr.—H. A. Gibbons, to Glorious (Nov. 23); S. F. Stapleton, to Dundee (undated).

Lt.—G. J. McCann, to Birmingham.
Proby. Lt.—K. M. Jolliffe, to Birmingham; P. W. C. Hellings, to London; R. D. Crombie, J. N. Congdon, to Shropshire.
Staff Sgt.-Maj.—S. W. Harrold, to Nelson.

EAST INDIES STATION

H.M.S. Norfolk, Captain J. M. Mansfield, will leave Plymouth on November 10, after refit and re-commissioning, to return to duty as flagship on the East Indies Station. She will call at Malta on November 16, Port Said on November 19, Suez on November 20, Aden on November 24-25, and should arrive at the base of the squadron at Trincomalee on December 4. There she will take over the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Ramsay from the Emerald.

H.M.S. SHARPSHOOTER

The new minesweeper Sharpshooter will commission for trials at Devonport and their conclusion will pay off into dockyard control. She will commission at Devonport with a reduced crew on December 16, and will give Christmas leave in two watches, after which she will proceed to Portland for trials in company with the 1st Minesweeping Flotilla. Lieutenant-Commander G. T. Lambert, late in command of the destroyer Searcher in the Mediterranean, has been appointed in command of the Sharpshooter.

INTERPRETER EXAMINATION

The next preliminary and final examinations in modern foreign languages will begin on January 18, and will be held in London. Names of candidates should be forwarded through the usual channels in time to reach the Admiralty not later than November 29. Applications received after this date cannot be considered.

THE ARMY

BOSTON COMPANY'S 300TH ANNIVERSARY

The Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company of Boston, Mass., has sent an invitation to the Honourable Artillery Company to visit Boston next year, when the Boston company will celebrate the 300th anniversary of its foundation.

Robert Keayne, of Windsor, a member of the Honourable Artillery Company, was the founder and first commander of the American organization, and the first muster of the new company was held on Boston Common in 1638. On parade were 12 other former members of the H.A.C., and in its first 50 years the American company had 41 members who had previously served with the London company.

Members of the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company of Boston were guests of the H.A.C. last July on the occasion of the 400th anniversary of the granting of the latter's charter.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

It has been decided as an experimental measure during the next six months that all soldiers of good character and at least six years' service who have not had a chance of being trained in a trade during their Army service shall have the opportunity of being trained during the last six months of their service on Army rates of pay.

This training will be given partly at Army vocational training centres at Aldershot, Chislehurst, and Hounslow and also at Government training centres at Southampton, Handsworth (Birmingham), Slough, Watford (Croydon), and Leeds. During the next six months it is hoped to pass 6,000 men through the centres, compared with 3,000 normally trained in a full year at Army centres.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

BADGE FOR OBSERVERS

It has been decided to introduce a badge for air observers, to be known as the "observer's badge," the design of which will follow that of the badge of air observers in the R.A.F. during the War.

Particulars as to the availability of the badge will be announced later, but it is to be issued and worn under the same general conditions as apply to the pilot's flying badge. Air officers commanding will for the present authorize the wearing of the badge when an airman has passed the air observers' course has served in a squadron for at least six months, has completed at least 50 hours' flying as air observer, and has been recommended by his C.O.

NO. 3 TRAINING CAMP

The postal address of No. 3 Armament Training Camp has been changed from Sutton Bridge, Wisbech, Cambs, to Sutton Bridge, Holbeach, Lincs. The camp lies to the north of Wisbech and eastward of Holbeach and is about the same distance from either.

NO. 203 SQUADRON REUNION

The fifth reunion dinner of officer of No. 203 (Flying-Boat) Squadron will be held at 7.30 p.m. on December 3 at the Royal Air Force Club, Piccadilly. Air Vice-Marshal W. L. Welsh, C.B., D.S.C., A.F.C., Air Member for Supply and Organization, who commanded the squadron in 1931-32, will preside. Squadron Leader John Marsden, promoted in the October list, has recently been serving as second-in-command of No. 24 (Communications) Squadron at Hendon, which provides transport for members of the Air Council and other high officials.

FORTHCOMING WEDDINGS

The following forthcoming weddings are announced:
Mr. Otto Koppenhoefer, mechanical engineer, of Y.M.C.A., Salisbury Road, and Miss Helena Julch, of No. 169 Avenue Hale, Shanghai.
Mr. Lee Hin Wong, radio instructor, of No. 46 Chung On Street, second floor, and Miss Chan Kai Wul, of No. 68 Chung On Street, ground floor.

V.D.M.A. SOCIAL

A large gathering attended the Victoria Diocesan Missionary Association social held at St. Andrew's Church Hall last night when Bishop R. O. Hall delivered an address.

HEALTH RETURNS

Five cases of dysentery, two of enteric fever, and one each of diphtheria and measles were reported to the Health Authorities for the 24 hours ended at midnight on Tuesday.

Floral tributes were sent by:—The British Legion, Hong Kong Branch, The Management, The Hong Kong Hotel, Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., Your Hotel Colleagues, Royal Naval Dockyard, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jessap, Your Old Comrade A. J. Manton, Mr. H. J. Woolley.

BANISHEE'S LONG LIST OF CONVICTIONS

Despite the fact that his period of banishment was for life, Wong Ming, 47, returned to the Colony on Tuesday and at once went to a drapers' shop in Wing Kat Street where he attempted to lift a roll of cloth. He was detected, however, and appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday, where it was revealed that previous to his being sent away in 1931, he had a long list of convictions. Sentence of one year's hard labour was imposed. Inspector R. Shannon prosecuted.

Another banishee, who was sent away for ten years in 1934, was given six months' hard labour.

BRUSSELS CONFERENCE AUTHORITY DOUBTED

"Resolution Is Tepid" Says U.S. Press

New York, November 17.

The Nine-Power Conference has brought a very foggy indictment against Japan under exceedingly doubtful authority writes the "New York Herald Tribune." The paper criticises the participation of non-signatories to the Nine-Power Pact in the Conference.

The "New York Times" states, "The results of the first stage of the Conference are pitifully small. As compared with the vigorous declarations of the League and the United States a few years ago against Japanese aggression in Manchuria the Brussels resolution on an even more flagrant and extensive aggression against China Proper is tepid."—Reuter.

EVACUATION OF NANKING

BUT MILITARY WILL PUT UP RESISTANCE

Nanking, Nov. 17. Despite the evacuation of the civil offices of the Chinese Government to safer regions, a determined defence of Nanking is fore-shadowed by the announcement that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other military heads are remaining in the capital to direct operations. Meanwhile civil officials and the populace are hurriedly leaving.

While civilians are evacuating to the west, streams of fresh troops are marching to the east to strengthen the defences on the Shanghai-Nanking Railway and also the Nanking-Hangchow highway. The civil offices are evacuating in three batches—the first group left yesterday, the second to-day and the final group will be leaving within two days.—Reuter.

ISLAND OF MALORCA

Not Occupied By Italians

London, Nov. 17. The question which has occupied British public opinion for some time, and always been discussed with great interest, namely whether the Italians have, with any large military unit, carried out an occupation of the Nationalist Spanish Island of Malorca, is dealt with conclusively by the "Times" special correspondent sent to Palma de Malorca.

The correspondent writes: "After having visited Malorca and studied the situation there, one must come to the conclusion that Malorca is not occupied by the Italians. The only Italian infantrymen seen in the streets of Palma were such as were returning to Italy from Spain, and had gone ashore in Palma for a few hours to 'stretch their legs.' The proportion of Italians on the Island compared with the Spanish mainland. All defence posts, with exception of the pilots and machine-guns are of Soviet Russian or Czechian origin, obtained from intercepted Republican vessels. Food supply on Malorca is plentiful, whereas on the Republican Island of Minorca food is very short.

Speaking generally, Malorca is very well prepared to defend itself."—Transocean.

JAPAN WILL NEVER DOMINATE CHINA

WORLD AFFAIRS BROADCAST

The Rt. Hon. Sir Malcolm Robertson, G.C.M.G., K.B.E., was the speaker in the weekly broadcast on "World Affairs," last evening, during which he remarked that the world is indeed in a strange state—its ideology being between Fascism against Communism on one side and democracy on the other.

As far as Communism is concerned the speaker said that we must not think only of the Far East, but also of the South American States which are said to be in a Fascist ideological state, the political ambition of each country being to turn her government into either a Fascist, Communist, or democratic government, as the case may be.

Continuing, the speaker said that Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina are each a vast country and the establishment of fascism or communism would be very difficult indeed.

While Germany, Italy and Japan are endeavouring to suppress communism in the South American States and to promote fascism in its stead, the United States of America is doing her utmost to substitute democracy for either of them.

According to Sir Malcolm, neither Communism nor Fascism could prevail in the South American States.

Turning to the criticisms of Mr. Neville Chamberlain's speech by the British Press, the speaker complimented the Prime Minister on his realisation of the growing strength of the Berlin-Rome axis.

The speaker then talked about Lord Halifax's visit to Herr Hitler. The conversations between Lord Perth and Count Ciano, the speaker added, which at one time was expected to open in Rome have been postponed as it is felt in London that a more opportune moment will arise when the settlement of the Spanish question is in sight.

With regard to the Brussels Conference and the Sino-Japanese situation, Sir Malcolm said that China is a very vast country, with a population of about 400,000,000, and that though China's military strength is at present a bit below that of the Japanese, Japan could never dominate China owing to the high morale and patriotic spirit of the Chinese people.

The speaker said that though Britain's policy lies in conciliation, yet she is increasing her military strength in order to command respect from countries who ignore her words.

Concluding, Sir Malcolm said that in his opinion no country in the world desires another world war, as in war, suffering is the price each country has to dearly pay even though she may be victorious.

ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST JAPAN

Chinese Journal's Suggestion To Powers

Shanghai, Nov. 17. While the majority of the vernacular papers in the North continue to devote much space to the war, the "Ta Kung Pao," one of the leading Chinese journals, commented editorially on the Brussels Conference yesterday and asked what the much talked about "common attitude" of the Powers was going to be like, and the journal offers this solution that either the powers live up to the terms of the Nine-Power Treaty or withdraw from the Far East, leaving Japan to dominate.

The journal concluded by suggesting that the Powers ought to act together in applying economic sanctions against Japan. So far as the War is concerned news received in the Colony last evening was to the effect that Japanese warships and reinforcements keep pouring into Shanghai and amongst the arrivals was a 14,000 ton vessel and 4,000 fresh troops which were soon distributed amongst the various fronts.

High Chinese commanders are reported to be directing operations in the front lines and the morale of the troops is reported to be extremely high. From Shanghai it is learned that in addition to the 12 Chinese Cruisers taken over by the Japanese two days ago, a number of Chinese motor-boats plying along the river were also taken by the Japanese yesterday, and they are using these for transporting troops from the vessel anchored in the river to the shore. There is little change, however, in the Chinese and Japanese positions on the Shanghai-Hangchow line.

A simple but impressive memorial service was held in the Capital yesterday in commemoration of the Chinese officers and soldiers who have fallen in the war. It was attended by 30,000 people, representatives of all walks of life.

CHINESE GUNS IN ACTION

Tsinan, Nov. 17. With heavy concentration of troops on Lukow on the south bank of the Yellow River, Chinese guns to-day went into action to withhold the advance of Japanese troops towards the north bank of the river.

The Japanese are taking advantage of the shallowness of the river in making a crossing from their base in Yen-cheng.

Fighting was in progress in Tsinyang on the north bank of the river northeast of Tsinan, which was again bombed yesterday. The Japanese airmen took pains to avoid property owned by their nationals.—International News Agency.

CHINESE TO LAUNCH COUNTER ATTACK

TO RECAPTURE SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Nov. 17. Chinese forces behind their "Magnet" line to-day replied gun for gun to the Japanese attack along a sector about three miles east of Soochow and Changshu. The new defensive line is about 95 miles long beginning from Fushan on the south bank of the Yangtze River to Chapoo in Hangchow Bay touching at Pal-makow and along the Soochow-Kashing highway.

It is said that this line can stand heavy artillery and aerial attacks and that from this front a counter attack will be launched in two months for the recapture of Shanghai.

A contingent of Japanese blue-jackets made a landing at Hangchow Bay between Chapoo and Halyen in Chekiang on November 14. It was disclosed to-day, but the enemy was repulsed by the shore garrison. Japanese warships hurled shell after shell on the shore to cover the retreat of the landing party.—International News Agency.

JAPANESE PROTEST

AGAINST FRANCE

Alleged Shipping Of Arms To China

Tokyo, Nov. 17.

Concerning the alleged protest of Japan against France in regard to the arms and munitions transports to China via French Indo-China, it is now stated here that the Japanese Government, for the first time on October 13 had occasion to protest to the French Government, stating that weapons and ammunitions were shipped to the French harbour of Haiphong, and sent by train to Chungking, from where they were transported by river boats on the Yangtze to the Nanking front. The French authorities had, it is stated here, promised that deliveries would cease as soon as the current contracts were carried out.

It is now stated that the Japanese Government has again protested to the French diplomatic representative and demanded that all deliveries cease at once, otherwise Japan would see herself compelled to carry out air attacks on the Chungking Railway and take over naval control of the gulf of Tongking.—Transocean.

PIRATICAL ATTACK IN MEDITERRANEAN

British Ship Bombed

London, Nov. 17. The press reports another instance of a pirate attack on Mediterranean shipping, when the British steamer "Cardium," on her way from Ibiza to Alicante was bombed by planes of unknown nationality, but suffered no great damage. This incident is treated with great reserve by the authorities, where it is stated that no protest is to be expected until the details have been made sure of.—Transocean.

REPORT INCORRECT

London, Nov. 17. Yesterday's report from Barcelona of an air attack on the British steamer "Cardium" was found on investigation to be incorrect. The captain's wireless message merely stated that a suspicious aircraft was flying above the vessel.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

REPORTS DENIAL

Italy Not Acting As Mediator

Rome, Nov. 17. It is learned authoritatively that there is no truth in the report that Italy is acting as mediator in the Sino-Japanese war. The report arose owing to the presence in Rome of Chen Kung-po, Chinese Minister of Propaganda but he stated that he was here without any specific political purpose. Chen Kung-po was to-day received by Count Ciano.—Reuter.

LORD HALIFAX LEAVES FOR BERLIN

London, Nov. 17. Lord Halifax had a final talk with Mr. Anthony Eden before leaving for Berlin. He was seen off at Victoria Station by Herr von Ribbentrop. Lord Halifax is travelling alone as his visit to Germany is informal. Mr. Chamberlain announced in Commons that the results of the Hitler-Halifax talks will be given in a public statement while Italy and France will be kept informed of the talks.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

WAZIRISTAN CASUALTIES

British And Indian Officers Killed

London, Nov. 17. The War Office reports that as a result of Waziristan disturbances 21 British and Indian officers were killed and 161 men wounded. The casualties among tribesmen are believed to be about doubled. Agitation by Faqir Ipi and the necessity for protection of roads has necessitated the maintenance of the present force in the districts.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

OFFICE BOY'S LAPSE

Converted Employer's Funds To Aid Wife

A charge of embezzlement was preferred against Chin Ka-lam, 46, office boy employed by the China Construction Co. Ltd., of the Bank of East Asia Building, when he appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday. It was stated that defendant, who was paid a wage of $24 per month, converted to his own use a sum of $103 received on behalf of his employers.

Defendant pleaded that his wife was suffering hardships in Shanghai and he wanted to have her come down here. He was bound over in $200 for one year.

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

NAVY AGAIN DEFEATED

Win For Club: Reed Shines In Pivotal Berth

T. WHITLEY'S OPPORTUNISM

The Royal Navy suffered their second successive defeat in the Triangular Hockey Tournament yesterday when they lost to the Hong Kong Hockey Club by three goals to one in a fast game at King's Park. The match, though speedy and interesting in parts, produced nothing very outstanding, chief features being the fine spilling work of Willie Reed at centre-half, the opportunism of T. Whitley, who scored two goals, and the gallant efforts of Lieutenant Blacker and Commander Billings for the losers. Lieutenant Donald was brilliant at times but his stick work was rather uncertain.

The game started at a rare pace and a breakaway by the Navy forwards nearly brought about a surprise goal but good work by Reed and Bates relieved the pressure and play was transferred to the other side of the field. For a little time the Club kept up the attack and the Navy were penned in their own half. During this period Divett, Bates and Whitley were prominent, but the latter, though showing a nice turn of speed was not judging the ball very well and several promising moves were nullified.

DIVETT SCORES
The first goal came from a short corner. Divett sending the ball in with a crisp hard shot which landed in the middle of the net. Exchanges after this were fairly even but the Club were combining better and were greater opportunists. The half-back line were definitely superior to the Navy's. Reed was as usual, a statement which is self-explanatory and Bates worked very hard. He appeared somewhat troubled by perspiration running into his spectacles, but did not let this worry him. Potter was not quite so good as his confreres but he too gave little away.

In another breakaway Bickford secured the ball, and rounding a Navy defender, sent it to Whitley who scored with a high shot which looked all the way as if it was going to clear the bar but curved a little and landed in the top of the net. It was a golden opportunity, very well seized, and gave the naval custodian little chance. Not long after he nearly added another, receiving the ball from a free hit. Half-time came with the Club two goals up.

NAVY RECOVER
After the interval the Sailors came back strongly but attack after attack petered out, generally through the combined work of Bates, Reed and Wallace at back. The first hamed in particular was now showing great form. He played ed a real half-back's game, being as prominent in defence as in taking the ball up the field. On one occasion he saved an almost certain goal when, with the goal beaten he sprawled full-length and got his stick in the way of the ball as it was almost entering the net.

Rather against the run of play at this stage the Club added a third goal when Whitley took the ball from a free hit and whipped in a pacy shot which beat McBride all the way. The Navy were not disheartened and Donald and Blacker in particular redoubled their efforts, with the result that play never got one-sided. As a matter of fact the Navy team were probably getting a little more of the exchanges at this stage but they just could not score. They did everything else but, though.

NAVY SCORE
At long last Blacker took a pass quite near the goal and sent in a rattling shot which beat Benwell as much by surprise as anything. The Navy fully deserved this goal after their strenuous efforts and in fact with a little better luck this might have been their second one. As in the match with the Army they were the better lasters and breakaways by the Club were now not so frequent.

The light by this time was getting distinctly bad, and by mutual agreement play ended a few minutes before actual time. It is notable that most of the game for the last few minutes was confined to the Club half.

Teams:—
Hong Kong Club:—V. M. Benwell; Flight-Lt. R. L. Wallace, G. Sommer; R. A. Bates, W. A. Reed, J. E. Potter; S. Fowler, T. Whitley, G. E. R. Divett, B. Bickford, V. Bond.

Royal Navy:—A. B. McBride; Lt. Greene, Cmdr. Billings; Cmdr. Taylor, Cmdr. Spencer, Lt. Pouliden; A. B. Meadows, Sub-Lt. Taylor, Lt. Blacker, Lt. Donald, Lt. Whitworth.

Tate Says Farewell To Sussex

Another outstanding personality has disappeared from the first-class cricket field.

Maurice Tate, the Sussex and England fast-medium bowler, will not be re-engaged by his county when, next April, his agreement expires, and so he follows into retirement such celebrated players as Hendren and Sandham, whose connection with the first-class game terminated this year.

Tate, who is going with the team to tour the Argentine for three months, first played for Sussex in 1912, at the age of seventeen, so that, excluding the war period, his career extended over twenty-five years.

HEREDITARY TALENT
His bowling ability might be regarded as hereditary, for his father played for Sussex and, in 1902, for England against Australia.

Tate played in twenty Test matches against Australia and fourteen against South Africa. He came to the front as a bowler in 1923, and the following season, against South Africa in the Edgbaston Test match, he and Arthur Gilligan, the Sussex captain, dismissed the visitors for 30—the smallest total in a Test in this country.

His success in Tests in Australia was remarkable. During the series "down under" in 1924-25, he established a record that still stands, taking 38 wickets.

OPENING BATSMAN
For many seasons he opened the innings for Sussex, and in eight successive years—from 1922 to 1929 inclusive—he achieved the "cricketers' double" of 1,000 runs and 100 wickets.

Three times he took more than 200 wickets in a season, in 1923, 1924, and 1925, his best year being the lastnamed, when his victims numbered 228 at an average cost of less than 15 runs apiece. He holds the record for the number of wickets taken by a Sussex bowler.

Mr. W. L. Knowles, the Sussex secretary, said recently: "The committee have decided that it is time Tate retired. We appreciate the tremendous service he has rendered the club."

"Sussex are not one of the rich counties but in 1930 we handed Tate a cheque for over £2,000 for his benefit, and we have decided now to give him a present of £250. Tate is deferring any decision as to his future until his return from the Argentine. He may go into league cricket, or he may secure a coaching engagement."

BADMINTON MATCH

At Kowloon Tong yesterday evening, St. John's Cathedral beat the Kowloon Tong Garden Club Association in their "B" Division Badminton fixture by 5 sets to 4.

BETTER VALUE THAN EVER

The Gillette No. 77 Set illustrated here, which contains the latest Gillette razor, three Blue Gillette slotted blades and two blade holders in a new type of moulded box, has these definite advantages.

The razor is made in two pieces instead of three, as formerly, thus making it easier and quicker to clean, assemble and use. The blades are made by the new electrical tempering process. They give not only closer, cleaner shaves than you have ever had before, but also more shaves per blade.

The case is ideal for hot and humid climates as it is so easy to keep clean.

Ask your dealer to show you a No. 77 Set—one of the most popular that Gillette have ever made.

BLUE GILLETTE BLADES

How to get rid of Disfiguring Blemishes

How much younger would you look and feel if your skin was clear and entirely free from blemish?

Pimples, spots, blackheads, enlarged pores, burning irritations and ugly complexion defects are woman's most common "aging" enemies. To all who suffer, Cuticura presents the most simple and effective way to clear the skin.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant, mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dust and grime which develop blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try this treatment to-day, see how your skin begins to look clearer and fresher; your complexion smoother, lovelier, more attractive than ever before.

A WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP EVENT

INCLUDED IN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATIONS

A world 18-footer championship race, organised by the New South Wales Sailing League, will be the principal sailing event on Sydney Harbour during the Anniversary Celebrations.

New Zealand will be represented and negotiations with England and South Africa are expected to be successful.

The League has approached leading yachtsmen of Victoria, South Australia and Western Australia to nominate craft for the international title.

An endeavour is also being made to induce America to send a representative. Mr. T. O. M. Sopwith, owner of Endeavour II, has been asked to build and race a modern 18-footer on Sydney Harbour. The English yachtsman's reply gives strong hope of Great Britain nomination.

Mr. George Dennis, deputy-president of the New Zealand Yacht Club, nominated Marene, champion 18-footer of the Dominion.

Marene is constructed on different lines to League 18-footer, being partly decked. The boat has a mast 30ft. high and carries a big-spread Bermuda sail of 250 square feet. The job has an area of 35 square feet. A leading jib of 94 square feet is used when the wind is on the quarter. Marene has a round bilge and clinker planking. The depth of the boat is 4 ft. 4 in.

The skipper is assisted by a crew of four working hands.

New Zealand may nominate a second boat.

Although the New Zealand boats do not strictly comply with the League's regulations, the conditions of the race will be altered to allow the Dominion boats to compete.

The world championship will be decided in a series of three races between January 26 and January 31. The Sow and Pigs course of nine miles will be used. Several handicap races will be arranged for the visiting boats.

ICE HOCKEY BAN ON FOUL PLAY

The British Ice Hockey Association is determined to stamp out foul play, and will deal strongly with unduly rough players.

Warning has been issued that players becoming involved in incidents, scenes or fights will be summoned before a special disciplinary committee.

Punishment may mean suspension, which, should the offence be repeated, may extend to international suspension and cancellation of playing certificates.

Referees have been instructed not to tolerate foul play of any kind, demonstrations and arguments with the officials in charge of the game.

VON CRAMM WINS

Tokyo, Nov. 17.
The German tennis champion, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, in the semi-final round of the Japanese Men's Singles tennis championship beat Kuramitsu 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Henner Henkel lost to Yamagishi 4-8, 6-4, 3-6, 3-8, so that the decisive match will be played by Yamagishi and von Cramm.

NEXT YEAR'S TESTS

London, Nov. 16.
The Advisory Committee of the Board of Control of the Marylebone Cricket Club decided at its meeting to-day that the 1938 Test matches between England and Australia will be played over four days. If at the conclusion of the Fourth Test neither side leads by a margin greater than one match, then the Final Test at the Oval will be played to a finish.—Reuter.

REVENUE FROM SWEEPSTAKES

$80,000 Expected From Non-Turf Clubs

The Straits Settlements Government anticipates getting next year $80,000 from sweepstakes promoted by clubs other than turf clubs in Malaya.

This was the estimate given by Mr. L. Rayman, the acting Financial Adviser, in reply to Mr. E. Newbold at the Legislative Council recently.

That total consists of $15,000 from Singapore clubs, $60,000 from Penang and $5,000 from Malacca.

This is very much less than the revenue estimated for this year, which total $123,000, made up of $2,900 from Singapore, $120,000 from Penang and $100,000 from Malacca.

The estimated total revenue from the betting tax for this year is $420,000; the revised estimate is $473,000.

A total of $350,000 comes from turf club totalisators and sweepstakes from the Singapore Turf Club ($290,000) and the Penang Turf Club ($60,000).

The estimate for next year is $420,000 and apart from the total from sweepstakes held by non-turf clubs given above, the revenue from turf club totalisators and sweepstakes is estimated at $340,000 comprising $260,000 from the Singapore club and $80,000 from Penang.

RUSSIA ACCEPTS NON-INTERVENTION PLAN

London, Nov. 16.

The plan for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain is accepted finally without reservation by the Soviet Ambassador Malsky at the session of the Non-Intervention Committee to-day, so that the former reservation regarding the right to wage war, has been withdrawn.

The Soviet Ambassador said that his Government, together with the other Governments, was prepared to leave the interpretation of the phrase "substantial withdrawal" to the time when this comes before the Committee for consideration.

The Committee accepted the reports of its technical sub-com-

GERMAN TRADE FIGURES

Increases Shown In October

Berlin, Nov. 16.

The foreign trade figures for Germany, which have just been published, show that the exports and the imports for October were far greater than for the preceding month. The total value of goods imported into Germany during the month was 485 million Reichsmarks, representing an increase of 5 per cent. Goods exported from Germany were valued at 544 million Reichsmarks, representing an increase of 50 million compared with September.

The imports from both European and overseas countries shared in the increase, the European countries registering an increase of 15 million Marks, and the overseas countries 8 million. The imports from The Argentine, Brazil, Chile and Egypt increased particularly, while the imports from India, the Malay States and China decreased to some extent.

Exports from Germany were 25 per cent. higher in October as compared with the exports in the same month of last year. In Europe, particularly Britain, Greece and Turkey imported increasingly from Germany, and in overseas it was the United States, Brazil, British India and South Africa.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY FROM ARTESIAN BORE

Quilpe, (Queensland) so far as is known, is the only town in the world to obtain its supplies of electricity from an artesian bore,

although it is no uncommon thing

for American townships to derive their fuel and lighting from reservoirs of natural gas. The bore at Quilpe is almost three thousand feet deep and yields roughly a million and a half gallons of water

daily, which is laid on to the town.

At full consumption the townspeople found it impossible to avail themselves of so much water,

thousands of gallons gushing to waste hourly. A hydro electric was purchased for £1,200 and the waste water harnessed up to it.

Running expenses total six shillings

and eightpence a week, while power and light are reticulated all over the town.

BRITISH PLAN ACCEPTED BY RUSSIA

London, Nov. 16.

At a meeting of the Non-Intervention sub-committee, M. Ivan Malsky announced that the Soviet Government, in order to facilitate still further the practical work of the Non-Intervention Committee for the withdrawal of volunteers in Spain, accepted the committee's resolution submitted on November 4 in toto and without any reservation, leaving, along with the other governments, interpretation of the term "substantial withdrawal" until the question came up for consideration.

The Soviet has thus accepted the British plan and withdrawn its objection to the granting of belligerent rights.

It is reported that substantial progress has been made concerning the technical aspects of the three main branches of the plan dealing respectively with the withdrawal of volunteers, the granting of belligerent rights and the restoration and strengthening of the observation scheme.

NEW BRITISH NOTE ISSUE

London, Nov. 16.

The announcement that the fiduciary issue will be increased by £20,000,000 was taken quietly in the City. It is pointed out that note circulation tends to increase at Christmas, and such increase this year would only have been possible by withdrawing notes from reserve in the Banking Department of the Bank of England. This would mean a sharp fall in the proportion of reserve to deposits, and in order to obviate this especially a fall would attract unfavourable comment on the Continent, the authorities have decided to increase the fiduciary issue, thus permitting more notes to go into circulation without affecting the total of notes in reserve. Moreover, reports of the high level of internal and external trade in October suggest a growing demand for currency. It is generally expected that note circulation will exceed £500,000,000 at Christmas.

— Reuter.

TEMPORARY MEASURE

London, Nov. 16.

A temporary expansion in the fiduciary issue to meet the Christmas demands was announced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons at question time. He said he had given directions at the request of the Bank of England, and under powers conferred on the Treasury by the Currency and Bank Notes Act, 1928, that as from the middle of November the fiduciary issue, which was reduced from £260,000,000 to £220,000,000 last year, should be temporarily raised to £220,000,000. This arrangement was to meet the seasonal demands, and it was therefore contemplated that it would obtain for about two months—to the middle of January 1938.

— British Wireless.

NEW HIGH RECORD

Last December, the note circulation received an all-time record for Christmas of £474,115,561, but with the growing prosperity of the country this figure was further exceeded at the height of the holiday season this summer when the circulation passed the £500,000,000 mark. In view of this, it may be anticipated that note circulation, which was £485,573,284 last week, will touch a new high figure at Christmas.

AIR TRAGEDY

Ostend, Nov. 16.

A great disaster has overtaken the Ducal House of Hesse. A plane, carrying six of its members, including Grand Duke George Donatus, Grand Duchess Cecilie, who is a cousin of the Duchess of Kent, two sons of the Grand Duke, Princes Ludwig Ernst and Alexander Georg, as well as Grand Duchess Dowager Eleonore, their chambermaid and the well-known pilot and glider champion Martin and Baron von Eisebach, crashed near Ostend in an attempt to make an intermediate landing. The plane, belonging to the Belgian airlines, was coming from Frankfurt and heading for London, where Prince Ludwig Ernst is attached to the German Embassy. The plane and all its occupants were burnt.

JAPAN READY TO TALK PEACE

Berlin, Nov. 16.

In an interview with Jan Fabius, Far Eastern Correspondent of the "Berliner Tageblatt," the Japanese spokesman in Tokyo said that the Japanese Army was ready to discuss peace with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek directly.

The spokesman said further that although the fighting spirit of the Chinese troops had greatly improved since 1932, the leadership was inadequate for a guerilla war on a large scale.

Furthermore the spokesman said that he believed that the will for peace was growing in circles around the Generalissimo, and as the latter was universally esteemed, the Japanese Army would be very willing to discuss cessation of hostilities with him. There had never, the spokesman concluded, been any demand of the resignation of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

He did not believe that the Communist influence in Nanking was in any way seriously growing, and believed that the future would see a close co-operation between Japan and China.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

London, Nov. 16.

The hastening by one day of Lord Halifax's departure to Berlin is attributed by the "Times" diplomatic correspondent to anxiety to "prevent any more mischief from the spate of interested rumour, which has chosen to regard the visit as a hanging balance ever since the prospect of it was first announced."

Both the diplomatic observers of the "Daily Mail" and "Daily Express" suggest that the British Government have in mind bringing back Germany to the League by a revision of the League, the erasure of the war guilt clauses and a re-allocation of mandates.

The "Daily Telegraph" and the "News-Chronicle" however, affirm that the visit serves only as an opportunity for the exchange of ideas with the German Government, "to discover how far the will to agree, as well as the measure for agreement, extends."

Local Residents Enjoy A Rare Treat

agents, local Press representatives and aviation officials. The third flight was for prominent Chinese Government officials, customs officials and Chinese Press representatives.

FULL LOAD

There is accommodation on the Hong Kong Clipper for 20 passengers and we had a full load on our trip. Excitement ran high as the great ship began moving, slowly gathering up speed until the foam and spray lashed the sides so heavily that we were unable to see ourselves leave the water. Then like a great bird the ship rose and the distance between us and terra firma increased rapidly as we headed south, a merry party enjoying a rare thrill.

Proceeding away down the southern coast the twenty minutes' trip took us west around the island of Hong Kong and back east to Kai Tak. We sighted many derelict ships, typhoon wrecks, including a fine view of the N.Y.K. Asama Maru and of course a glorious aspect of Victoria and Kowloon cities.

As the Clipper came gently to rest again everybody was sorry it was over so quickly. A great thrill indeed, and we take our hat to Pan-American Airways and the pilot and crew of the Hong Kong Clipper.

Those who went up in the first flight were as follows:

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, Lady Northcote, Miss Elisabeth Knatchbull-Hugessen, Miss Alastair Knatchbull-Hugessen, Captain Batty-Smith, A.D.C., Captain C. F. Rickard and other Hong Kong Government officials, including: His Honour Sir Atholl MacGregor, Hon. Commander J. B. Newell, Hon. Mr. T. H. King, Wing Commander W. A. K. Dakoll, R.A.F., Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones, Mr. A. J. R. Moss, Mr. R. R. Todd, Mr. E. W. Davico, Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall and others.

VARIETY REVUE A SUCCESS

The programme was a very long one—no less than 11 items being given, but the fact that there was not a single dull moment throughout the evening was testimony to the very efficient production of the revue.

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

All who took part in the revue were amateurs but they all showed up well. Perhaps this was due to the fact that they realised they were playing to an appreciative audience, and while it would be difficult to single out any particular item, praise must be given to little Miss Delle Ellis whose "Miss Personality" won for her much applause.

Montmartre Fantasy, by Ann Ellis and Gaston D'Aquino was also very well done and the request item (for the 67th time, so the programme stated) by Jack Grenham and Bill Simpson brought the house down.

It was a grand evening's entertainment and those who attended came away satisfied that they achieved two purposes in one evening—helping a worthy cause and also enjoying a first class concert.

The programme was as follows:

- Overture—Hong Kong Hotel Serenade.
- (1) Walkie—Moana Beach Boys, with Dorothy and Dessye Wong and Agnes Rocha.
- (2) Rhythm Quartette—Tavares Sisters (Margie, Betty, Thelma and Irene).
- (3) Accordion Solo—Art Carneiro.
- (4) Miss Personality—Delle Ellis.
- (5) Dance Reptiliana—Stella Best.
- (6) Fashion Show—Courtesy Dolly Varden. Displayed by Mrs. Phil Delany, Miss Mary McMullen, Miss Heather Gerrard, Mrs. Peggy Swain and Miss Pip Kennedy.
- (7) Request Item for 67th Time—Jack Grenham and Bill Simpson.
- (8) Ducky Interlude—With Step'n Fetchit, Mose, Topsy, Sambo, Luis Rozario and the Gomez Sisters.
- (9) Montmartre Fantasy—Gaston D'Aquino and Ann Ellis.
- (10) Tip-toe Terpsichore—Peggy Scotcher.
- (11) Bennett on Toast—Bill Simpson in person.

and that regular monthly donations will be made in support of it.

Arrangements have been made recently with a local firm through their Shanghai agents to supply various donated supplies straight to the places of necessity in the north, thus saving our Committee considerable expense in distribution. The Committee are grateful to this firm, and to all others, firms and individuals who have, and are, assisting their work so excellently.

Recently a sterilizer costing $700.00 was sent to Dr. Todd's Red Cross Unit in Canton, and urgent demands for supplies from other quarters are being received daily.

The work being done by the St. Andrews Medical Working Party which has not been previously published deserves mention. This party alone made 120 bales of cloth into bandages and swabs, including at least 700 bandages every week. Other parties are doing similar excellent work and the co-operation of all agencies is much appreciated by the Executive.

MADAME CHIANG'S LETTER

The following is a copy of the letter written by Madame Chiang to the local branch of the Relief Committee:—

Headquarters of the Generalissimo.
Nanking.

Miss Z. D. M. Carter
Hon. Sec.
International Medical Relief Committee
c/o Helena May Institute
Garden Road
Hong Kong.

Dear Miss Carter,—I have to apologise to you for the apparent discourtesy in delaying an answer to your letter of 19th October. For reasons connected with the present war, mail is being held up a lot and there is much delay in attending to it when it arrives. So, I have just come to your letter.

I appreciate very much the honour which the International Medical Relief Committee does me in asking me to become the Patron of the Committee. I am very glad to accede to the request. I wish to express my deep appreciation of the splendid work which your committee is doing on behalf of the suffering people of China. The ruthlessness of Japanese bombardment and the terrible loss of life and suffering caused is beyond description. The ruin to life and property that is being inflicted upon China is widespread and incalculable. But we are fortified by the sincerity of the sympathy that comes to us from foreign friends and well-wishers, and by the very practical application of that sympathy which is shown by such societies as yours. I would appreciate very much if you would kindly convey my warmest thanks to the committee not only for the honour it does me, but also for what it has done for China both collectively and individually.—Very sincerely, (sd.) Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

TO DO MILITARY WORK ONLY

Shanghai, Nov. 17.

It is reliably reported that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek intends resigning from the Presidency of the Executive Yuan and devote the whole of his time to duties as Commander-in-Chief of China's armed forces. Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance will concurrently be president of the Executive Yuan.—Reuter

One could not help wondering why the authorities have not condemned all these houses. They are not only a disgrace to the good name of the Colony—they are a definite menace to the health of the community!

As an experiment we would suggest that the Government should order two, or three blocks of these houses to be pulled down and in their place put up modern flats, with proper regard to lighting and sanitation etc. It should not be too difficult a task and a step like this will not only win for Hong Kong the name of a city that caters for the comforts of the poor as well as the rich, but what is more important still, it will give the thousands of poor babies a better chance to be brought up in a more humanitarian manner. As the position is at the present it is nothing short of rank cruelty to have the children brought up in places where germs and disease thrive in their millions.

KOWLOON EXPERIMENT

There is, we understand, an experiment shortly to be carried out in housing along humanitarian lines in Kowloon. This is a very laudable move but the problem is so vast that even the example of a successful settlement scheme will not be sufficient to solve it generally. Root causes must be ascertained and a lasting solution based on a lasting formula propounded.

The Duke's Protest

The Duke of Windsor's speech to the Anglo-American Press Association in Paris recently suggested that he and the Duchess, on their recent tour, were offended at their treatment by certain sections of the Press, writes a Home correspondent.

The grounds for their offence not entirely clear. The British has been divided in its attitude to the Duke's tour. One section has dealt with it at length and in a manner favourable to the Duke.

The other section, in confining itself to brief reports of the tour, has refrained from any criticism.

French Criticism

The American Press has proved almost unanimous in its friendliness towards the Duke and, particularly, towards the Duchess. "Only in the French Press, with which an Anglo-American Press luncheon can have no concern, has the Duke been attacked.

Rightly or wrongly, certain French newspapers have read Nazi sympathies into the fact that the Duke paid a visit to Hitler and that he is sailing for America in a German ship.

Embassy Visit

He is travelling in a German ship because a British ship is equivalent to British soil, and the Duke does not wish to set foot on British soil until he can return to England.

But the Duke, I learn, has applied for accommodation at the British Embassy in Washington during his visit to America; although a British Embassy, no less than a British ship, is British soil. There is precedent for the use of the British Embassy by distinguished visitors. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and the late Lord Reading both stayed at our Embassy in Washington.

The Duke did not stay at the Embassy during his Berlin visit. In Germany, however, he was the guest, throughout his tour, of the German government, whereas in America his status will be that of an independent visitor.
